TO RECEIVE PAVING REPORT

Data Will Be Submitted at Next Meeting of City Commission.

At the regular meeting of the city o be presented the report of the appraisers appointed to fix the values of the property which will be assessed to pay for the 1922 paving program.

The appraisers were George W. Adamson, E. H. White and E. M. Cockrell, now deceased. The report covers only the valuation of the property, which is to serve as a basis for the assessments against the property. If the report is accepted the commission will set a date, not less than ten days in the future, at which a special hearing of any protests against the valuations, will be heard.

The property which has been valuated by the appraisers includes that abutting on the following streets, as well as a large number of alleys:

The bulk of these cattle have been of the white face variety and most of them are carrying the conventional honors.

Basset Blakeley of Houston, is probably sending more cattle to Kansas pastures from the Lone Star state than any other one cattleman. To date, Mr. Blakeley has consigned about 2,000 head of cattle to different points. Many of these cattle are the well known Brahmas.

To Make the Home

The Purpose of the DEVOE Interior Decorating Demonstration

More Beautiful

CURELY the home—the center and source of most of our joys in life -deserves to be fresh, clean and at-

Yet many a person sighs for new furniture or new woodwork effects, but is denied them because of expense.

And all the time many of the beautiful things desired are right in the

Those old chairs, that scratched picture frame, that scarred dresser and hundreds of other objects throughout the house that are now lacking in beauty and distinction can be easily transformed into things of beauty again.

To enable our customers bring out these hidden beauties of the home we have arranged to conduct a Devoe Interior Decorating Demonstration on May 8 and 9.

The Devoe Expert will give you practical suggestions on modern methods of interior decoration. She will not spin theories; she will present facts. She will not talk generalities but will actually show you how, with but a few minutes of your time, you can, at a very slight cost, make the dingy spots in the home glowingly attractive and richly bright.

Come in and Discuss Your Home Decorating Problems During the Demonstration.
